WHO WE ARE:
The Philosophy faculty at UIC is among the best in the country. We provide undergraduates with training vital to a humanistic education, including fundamental ideas of values and conceptions of the world; a general knowledge of the philosophical tradition; and skill in clear thinking and sound argument. Many of our classes are small, which allows greater direct contact with teachers than is usual for a large university.

WEBSITE: phil.uic.edu

DEGREES OFFERED: Bachelor of Arts, PhD

POTENTIAL CAREER OPTIONS:
Philosophy majors go on to successful careers in a very wide variety of fields as a result of the skills they develop studying philosophy. According to a recent study, the mid-career median salary for philosophy majors is considerably higher than that of business management majors. Some philosophy majors choose to pursue a graduate degree in philosophy, law, business, or medicine, to mention several of the possibilities. National statistics show that philosophy students do exceptionally well on the LSAT, GRE, GMAT, and MCAT.

MOST POPULAR COURSES:
• 100: Intro to Philosophy
• 102: Introductory Logic
• 110: Philosophy of Love and Sex
• 115: Death

OPPORTUNITIES:
PHIL 101 CRITICAL THINKING is a brand new class offered at UIC. Critical Thinking has been identified by the UIC Career Services Offices as one of the five most important skills to have.

WHERE YOU CAN FIND US:
Department of Philosophy
University Hall, 14th Floor

For more information please visit las.uic.edu/prospective or email lasinfo@uic.edu
Updated: September 2015