WHO WE ARE:
Students in the UIC Political Science Department have a number of program options as undergraduates and graduates. Students who elect this major examine, among other things, the relationships between law and political institutions, economic and political power, culture, and identity. They develop the analytical, interpretive and critical methods necessary to understand these relationships at the local, national, regional, and international level.

WEBSITE: pols.uic.edu

DEGREES OFFERED: Bachelor of Arts, Master of Arts, PhD

POTENTIAL CAREER OPTIONS:
Studying political science teaches students to write analytically and prepares them to follow careers in law, government, teaching, journalism, business, and the non-profit sector.

OPPORTUNITIES:
Students pursuing the Major in Political Science also have the option of choosing a concentration in Law and Courts or Urban Politics. Several students also combine other majors or minors such as Economics or International Studies.

WHERE YOU CAN FIND US:
Department of Political Science
Behavioral Sciences Building, 1st Floor

For more information please visit las.uic.edu/prospective or email lasinfo@uic.edu
Updated: September 2015